

ACCA Qualification

The ACCA Qualification is a highly-regarded accountancy qualification. In order to become a qualified chartered certified accountant and use the designatory letters "ACCA" after your name you need to complete:

- 14 exams (exemption can be claimed in nine exams)
- Three-years' relevant practical experience requirements
- A Professional Ethics module

ACCA (Association of Chartered Certified Accountants) is the largest and fastest-growing international accountancy body, with over 432,000 students and 154,000 members in 170 countries. More people around the world qualify in-country with ACCA than any other international body. ACCA's reputation and influence are respected worldwide by employers, government and the profession itself. ACCA has an extensive network of over 80 staffed offices and other centres around the world.

ACCA's Members, who are known as Chartered Certified Accountants, are employed in industry, financial services, the public sector, or in public practice. With statutory recognition in the UK and Ireland it has the authority to license its members to work as registered auditors. In the UK, it also authorises its members to undertake insolvency work. Outside the UK, ACCA's are recognised under the EU's Mutual Recognition Directive and in many countries around the world.

ACCA offers four core qualifications:

- A suite of awards, including certificates, diplomas and a revised Certified Accounting Technician (CAT) qualification - (Foundations In Accountancy)
- A Professional Qualification enabling members to reach the highest level in accountancy - (ACCA)
- A Bachelor of Science in Applied Accounting which is centered on the needs of employers for practical, professional accounting - BSc (Hons)
- A Masters in Business Administration designed to broaden business understanding and enhance strategic decision making - (MBA)

Entry Routes

ACCA offers various entry routes, depending on your age and previous academic qualifications.

- Minimum Entry Requirements

- 2 passes at GCE A' Levels and 3 passes at GCSE/GCE O Level in 5

separate subjects, including English and Mathematics

- American Higher School Certificate with at least 50%

- Graduate Entry Route

- Graduation, B.Com, BA, BSc from a recognised University

- Access to ACCA via FD qualification

- Complete the Diploma in Accounting and Business through the Foundation Diploma route, and you can continue your studies with the Certified Accounting Technician Qualification, or you can transfer onto the ACCA Qualification, miss out the first three exams and continue your studies from the fourth exam (F4 - Corporate and Business Law) onwards.

Removal of Mature Student Entry Route (MSER)

If you would have normally registered on the ACCA Qualification via the Mature Student Entry Route (MSER), you should now register on Foundations in Accountancy. MSER is no longer available. This is because now that we have introduced Foundations in Accountancy, which is open entry and does not require you to have any previous academic qualifications to apply, it is possible for you to enter at any level within Foundations in Accountancy, including the Diploma in Accounting and Business. The exams FAB, FMA and FFA on Foundations in Accountancy are identical to F1, F2 and F3 of the ACCA Qualification. If you would have normally registered on MSER, you are now better placed when you register on Foundations in Accountancy. This is because there is no restriction on the number of exams you take, the order you choose to take them in, or the time you can take to complete FAB, FMA and FFA on Foundations in Accountancy.

Claiming Exemptions

Relevant degree holders from ACCA-accredited institutions may be exempted from all nine exams within the Fundamentals Level and register directly at the Professional Level. Degrees with some relevance may also qualify for exemptions. For details, refer to ACCAGlobal Exemption Support

Examination Structure

You have unlimited time to complete fundamental level papers and seven years to complete professional level papers. You take ACCA exams when it suits you – you choose the pace. You also have the option to select papers based on International Accounting and Auditing Standards and, in certain countries, variant papers based on local law and tax. You may also claim exemptions from certain exams, depending on what other qualifications you have gained.

Future Progression

Students who have passed knowledge and skills modules (9-papers) of the ACCA qualification are eligible to apply for an Oxford Brookes

University (OBU) Bsc (Hons) degree in Applied Accounting.

Qualified members may get MBA degree of Oxford Brookes University which was specifically developed through a strategic alliance formed between the business school at the OBU and ACCA. After qualifying ACCA, you can go for CA, ICAEW, CIMA, CFA® etc; as your further career progression.

ACCA Professional Course

The ACCA Professional Scheme is a highly relevant, targeted combination of study and practical experience. The syllabus is a result of extensive research and consultation with governments, students, colleges and employers from a range of public and private sector organisations.

Wherever you are in the world, ACCA strives to offer consistently high standards of training and support. Its personal and virtual study options have been developed to ensure that you have maximum control over what you learn, the way that you learn it, and the pace at which you work. Future employers will be aware of your potential, because the ACCA qualification is highly regarded throughout the world.

We have effective relationships with local and multinational organisations, accounting bodies, corporations and institutions including governments and even the United Nations. The ACCA qualification is a passport to a new world of opportunity - once you become a member, the learning process continues throughout your career. The range of educational opportunities includes a degree qualification, plans for a specifically tailored MBA and a constantly updated range of courses in all areas of finance and management.

Examination Rules

- Students have unlimited time to complete fundamental level papers and seven years to complete professional level papers
- The pass marks for all papers are 50%
- There are four manual examination sessions per year - in March, June, September and December
- Up to four papers can be taken in a single examination session
- Credits gained successfully in Fundamentals and Professional Level Papers can be retained, to prevent unnecessary re-taking of examinations
- The Knowledge module must be completed before the Essentials & Options module can be attempted

Computer Based Examination (CBE)

You can control the speed of your progression and specialism you wish to develop. You can choose to sit either paper-based exams in March, June, September and December or on-demand Computer Based Exams (CBE) whichever suits you best. CBE are currently available for paper F1 to F4.

Computer Based Examination offers you:

- Flexibility - You are not restricted to March, June, September and December paper-based examination sessions as you can sit CBE at any time of the year. CBE also offers flexibility for re-sits, which you can take at any time. There is no restriction on the number of times you can re-sit the Computer Based Exams.
- Instant Feedback - Your result is displayed on the computer screen at the end of the examination.
- Results are uploaded by the licensed centre and will be transferred to your ACCA account within 72 hours.
- The CBE fee is to be deposited at the admission office with the requirements as follows:
 - One passport size photograph.
 - A copy of ACCA registration card/number

- A copy of an evidence of your age (could be ONE of: National ID Card / Passport / Matric / O' Level Result Certificate).

Students, who have not received their ACCA UK Registration cards, are advised to submit a proof of the ACCA registration number in the form of any email correspondence or the postal mail received from the ACCA Office.

ID Verification Letter

Students not in possession of their ACCA Registration card are advised to get their ID Verification Letter made. The ID Verification letter is required to prove a student's identity and is mandatory for their entry in the examination hall. Once the supporting documentation including proof of identity is submitted, we need at least 24-48 hours to process the timely receipt of your ID verification letters. The requests are processed, keeping in mind the need for the students to concentrate on their exam preparation and not to waste their time in commuting to the ACCA Lahore Office for these letters.

CBE Progression Rules for ACCA

Students MUST be registered ACCA students, and hold a valid ACCA registration card prior to sitting the following papers by CBE.

- F1 - Accountant in Business
- F2 - Management Accounting
- F3(UK) - Financial Accounting (United Kingdom)
- F3(INT) - Financial Accounting (International)
- F4(UK) - Corporate and Business Law (United Kingdom)

ACCA offers two six monthly cycles for taking CBE exams:

- June cycle: 1 February to 31 July (including June paper-based exam session)
- December cycle: 1 August to 31 January (including December paper-based exam session)

Session CBE (F5-F9)

ACCA launches F5 - F9 Computer Based Exams in December 2016 in Pakistan

SKANS School of Accountancy is working in a partnership with ACCA to support the introduction of 'Session Computer Based Exams' (Session CBEs) for papers F5 – F9 in Pakistan, starting with the December 2016 exam sitting.

These CBEs have been developed after consultation with students, learning providers and employers so that they reflect the environment modern finance professionals' work in. The use of spreadsheets and word processing programs in the CBEs ensure that the right skills and competencies are developed in students

What is the exam format?

The exam consists of a mix of short and long questions. The Objective Test and OT Cases are auto-marked. The Constructed Response (longer) questions are where students have to produce their own narrative and numerical answers require expert/human marking. See the following 'Exam Format' page for full details. <http://www.accaglobal.com/gb/en/student/changes-to-exams/f5-f9-session-cbe/exam-format.html>

How will Greenwich support me?

As Greenwich working closely with ACCA, we will ensure you are fully supported in the transition to the Session CBEs: We are running courses for the December attempt that will cover the full syllabus but also incorporate training to deal with the Computer Based element of the exam. You can benefit from the access to our learning support, resources and the facility to practice using the new word processing and spreadsheet functionalities.

What Corporate Sector Employers Look For?

- Strategic Awareness and Specialist Knowledge
A recent research report – A changing profession – surveying ACCA members and employers, found that employees qualified and experienced in these areas, will provide the greatest value for business in the future.
- Consistency of Financial Reporting
Having employees with comprehensive knowledge of both financial and management accounting means that the same financial disciplines can be applied across all areas of the business, ensuring consistency for all reported financial information.
- Flexible Workforce
The ACCA, FIA, CIMA and CISA Qualifications provides the core of flexible, multi-skilled finance professionals who can be deployed in a range of roles, or pursue specialist areas after qualification to suit employer needs.
- Professionalism and Ethics
Employers also want assurance that their finance professionals work to the highest standards of professionalism and ethics.
- Accountability

In the current climate, investors and the general public have an expectation that corporate finance professionals behave responsibly in regard to all assets and investments under the stewardship of the companies in which they are employed.

SKANS and the Corporate Finance Professional

At SKANS, we are renowned for the quality of our teaching, support and the help we give to individuals in achieving their goals.

We help maximize the return on your training investment by guiding students through exams, tailoring programmes for qualified staff and meeting both HR and finance goals; something at which we excel.

We are not just trusted by those who study with us – infact trusted by employers ranging from Government, Banks and Industries of Public and Private Sectors – which means we are ideally positioned to help you stand out in your career.

Our Portfolio for Professional Training & Development

Our courses for the corporate sector are a guide for accounting, training and finance trainees and managers. They explain how our qualification delivers the knowledge, skills and attributes companies need from their finance professionals.

Whether you are a school leaver, a graduate or an A levels, you can choose from a wide range of professional qualifications within the following areas:

- FD (Foundations Diploma)
- ACCA (Association of Chartered Certified Accountants)
- AAT
- ABE

Our course leaders shall counsel you how the Qualifications can be shaped to meet the many roles of finance professionals working in the corporate sector, and how trainees can specialize – through exam and experience options – in professional accounting and finance for roles within and beyond the corporate sector such as Financial Accountant, Financial Analyst, Internal Auditor and Finance Manager.

Training Our primary objective is to provide a combination of industry standard and leading edge company solutions. All of our training and development services are designed and developed in-house. It should come as no surprise that SKANS offers the widest choice of accredited training and development services from leading Professional Accounting Bodies such as CIMA, ISACA, ACCA, and ICAP. This gives employers like PIFRA (Department of Auditor General Pakistan), Allied Bank and others, the confidence to prefer to send their employees to SKANS School of Accountancy.

Specialization and Tutor Our specialist focus on accounting, management accountancy, business finance, IS audit, control, portfolio management and financial analysis combined with wide private and public sector practical experience of our tutors of the industry comprises Chartered Accountants, Chartered Certified Accountants, CISM and CISA members, gives SKANS a unique perspective on the changing roles and demands faced by key staff and employees in organization today.

Individual Our small group sizes help facilitate the exchange of ideas and builds confidence. This gives delegates the opportunity to discuss their specific requirements and receive personal guidance from the tutor. This approach ensures that individual training need is met in full.

Competency Based Our teaching and learning methodology are specifically competency based in both learning and delivery. That means our courses directly assess delegates on specific competencies to ensure that the delegates completing one of the levels of our course are 'certified' as having achieved competency on that specific learning objective. This differentiates us from our competition.

Flexibility We highly appreciate work and personal commitment of the delegates, exclusive Evening and weekend classes are held for holders. We also facilitate you to study at your own pace through SKANS if time, work and other constraints prevent you from attending classroom.

Professional Accountancy

ACCA (the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants) and UoL (the University of London) International Programmes are offering a groundbreaking Masters' programme to ACCA students, affiliates and members around the world. This is the MSc in Professional Accountancy

MSc in Professional Accountancy (MPAC) marks the first time for an accountancy body to have collaborated with a university for an integrated qualification, to enable students across the globe to gain a Masters' degree and a Professional Accountancy qualification at the same time. The combination of ACCA's unparalleled global network of students and members, alongside the University of London's unrivalled network of accredited teaching institutions has presented a powerful partnership. ACCA candidates can now directly have a complete suite of professional and academic qualifications.

ACCA students, affiliates and members can complete the Masters in Professional Accountancy degree via an online, flexible platform and at a significantly reduced cost and time when compared to traditional means of study. This route will be of value to accountants aspiring to senior roles and enable them to stand out from the crowd in terms of their qualifications.

Dual Recognition

With this MSc, ACCA uniquely and for the first time recognises two MSc modules as counting towards the professional level of the ACCA Qualification. The University of London recognizes ACCA exams as the pre-requisite towards the MSc.

Who will benefit from this program?

ACCA members and affiliates can 'top-up' their professional qualification with this prestigious Masters' degree.

ACCA students who have passed the Fundamentals level/Professionals till P3 of the ACCA qualification can opt to continue towards their ACCA qualification by using MSc Professional Accountancy as an equivalent to two of their final ACCA papers.

Program Direction

The School of Management at University College London is responsible for the academic direction.

The research performed in the School of Management over the last six years has been rated as "world-leading" in the Research Excellence Framework 2014, a system for assessing the quality of research in UK universities.

Celebrate your success

University of London holds the annual graduation ceremony in London which is usually presided over by the University's Vice-Chancellor or Chancellor HRH Princess Royal.

Benefits

The benefits of studying the MSc in Professional Accountancy – University of London International Programme are:

- The association with two world-leading organizations, ACCA and the University of London, which is hugely influential to potential employers.
- A combined academic and professional perspective that will give candidates the leading edge in today's competitive marketplace.
- Exceptional value for money, as the financial investment made towards your ACCA qualification will count towards your MSc degree.
- The flexibility to fit studies around work, family and personal commitments.

University of London

The University of London is unlike many other universities. The University of London was founded by Royal Charter on 28 November 1836 and is the third oldest university in England.

It consists of 18 self-governing Colleges and 9 specialist research Institutes. All students from all the Colleges and Institutes are also University of London students, making them part of a community of over 170,000 students and giving them access to many services in London.

Many levels of study are covered at the University of London including foundation, undergraduate and postgraduate degrees, as well as diplomas and research degrees. The Colleges also have a wide range of short courses and summer programmes.

It is not even essential to be in London to study for a University of London degree. It currently has over 50,000 students studying in 180 different countries with the University of London International Programs.
